

body--Waylaid Bill--and killed him. She had three children, Jim Hamilton-- Jim was the oldest one and then Janey Hamilton, the girl, and then Burt Hamilton. Burt was a little boy. He was the youngest one. Them Wylies over there, well, they killed him over there, right there on the street. It was a long time ago, and every time he'd go in there, by god, they'd arrest him, throw him in jail. If he hadn't done nothing, they'd arrest him, throw him in there. One of them tried to arrest him. He threw him down, stomped the hell out of him, and walked off. And they caught up with him down there on that branch, and they killed him, killed Jim there. After that, Burt--Annie lived up there at Stilwell, his aunt. He went up there, and he went to a dance one night, and he got into a--with a couple of white boys, them Washita boys, they beat him up. He went back up there, and he got a Winchester. His aunt had a Winchester back room. He got that Winchester and went back. By god, he killed both of them there in that house. Well, after they killed Bill Hamilton, Mary married Sam Lane. My daddy was Sam's uncle. So, we was kinda folks right away, you know.

(Yeah.)

Well, Birt killed both them fellas, and he got up and left there. I never did know where he went. He killed both of them. Sam then--Aunt Mary was a sister to New Christie then.

(Yeah.)

A sister to him. They all related one way or another. One family lived at Tahlequah. I thought I would go up there. That was my daddy, you know, kinfolks lived. Them Starrs, Charley Starr and them, they was kin to us. (static) Charley Starr (sentence not clear)
