Francis Pipestem: (Low) the days that have been here have come to a close. We are so appreciative dear Lord and we're thankful you've come. An individual or all collectively that have come. It is a symbol, our Father, this way of life. We pray, our Father, that thou shalt help us to so live that the reflection of that His power might make us meaningful to that which we are associated with. Dear Lord, we want to pray that thou shalt bless our lives reflect respect and honor in the culture that is ours. Our Father it has been wonderful for these sons to have come together and now as we think of going our separate ways we do pray, Our Father, that thou shalt guide and direct us. Our lives, Dear Lord, we just so thankful for the privilege of being here. We're so thankful, our Father, for this Sunday, (low) mother, who has been such a wonderful parent. Dear Lord, Someone has said in the heart when kindness and affection guiding us then and only then will we see the spirit of our people. Dear Lord, we have seen it and believe that and how grateful Dear Lord as we cook we will not know when the day shall come but we just hope our Father and these people here that in this home we might come together a year from today. We're just so thankful , Dear Lord, and these gatherings we will close our thoughts, Our Father, in giving us this day we're just so thankful Our Father that our children, forgive them Dear Father. And now Dear God as we come to the close just pray your richest blessings
