

(How many were there?)

I had seven. I had three boys and four girls.

(Rosie's the oldest?)

Yeah. Louis is second. He's a boy. And I had one boy named Hannibal. And then Thomas. And then Imogene. And then Cordelia. And Carol Lee, the baby of the family.

(You remember about what year Rosie was born?)

Nineteen nine (1909). February third. And Louis was born December 28, 1912.

And Hannibal was born July 7, 1915. And Thomas was born January 26, 1919.

And Imogene was born September 9, 1921. And Cordelia was born September 4, 1924. And Carol Lee was born July 30, 1930.

(Now which of these are still living now?)

Just the three at the end. And these are gone.

(Did Rosie ever have any children?)

She's got two.

(What was her husband's name?)

Simon.

(Who are her children?)

Her boy's name is Leroy. And her daughter's name is Juanita. She lives in Oklahoma City. Her husband is a white man.

(What about Rosie's husband--what was his last name?)

It was Simon Arthur. But they separated before he was born. He went through the service in Germany. And she was carrying Leroy and when he came back, she didn't want to go back to him.

(Is he the father of Juanita, too?)

No. Her father's name was Jimmie Fly. And Louis, he's got one girl living.

(Was Jimmy Fly Arapaho?)

Yeah--Wyoming Arapaho.
