

(What's their mother's name?)

Nina. Used to be Nina Howling Wolf.

(Is that Arapaho?)

Cheyenne.

(And they've got four? What are their children?)

The oldest girl is Stella. And then Jean--Imogene, a girl. And then the oldest boy is Hiram. And the other boy is Larry.

(End of Side A)

Stella's got a little boy about two years old.

(But she didn't know where she got it?)

No--she found it on the highway.

(What's the little boy's name?)

I don't know. He's been here, but I never did hear her call his name. Imogene don't have any.

(What about Hiram?)

Well, he's just a young kid.

(And Larry's the youngest?)

Yeah. He's about twenty-one, Hiram. I think the other one's about nineteen.

(Where do they live?)

They're living at Hammon, with their mother.

(Now Imogene's got how many kids--eight?)

Eight boys. (Tells her grandson, who is listening, to help her with the birth dates.)

(What's Imogene's husband's name?)

Frank Mosqueda.

(What's the oldest one?)

Dennis. But he goes by Lincoln.

(Who's next after Dennis?)
