

That's just hearsay after they said it was her. You know, you can hear all kinds of things.

(Interruption.)

Down the road from where we lived about a mile on down farther. And they come out of the water and they'd just be in droves going down that road to church. And they'd just sing and sing and holler.

(Must have been happy. (Inaudible) religion. Well, Granny Gertie, I sure thank you for talking to me this afternoon and some other time I may come out again and let you talk to me again. You be thinking of some good stories.)

(Laughter.) I don't know about that. Oh, well all of this here happened but there's a whole lot between times yet that I didn't say. But then as far as the Indians, I've had quite a little bit of experience with them yet I don't know too much about them.

(Uh-huh. Well, I sure appreciate you talking to me today.)
