

(She was a sister to my grandmother or great great grandmother?)

Mother: Your great-grandmother.

Your great-grandmother..

(What was her name now?)

Mother: Becky --

(Stuart.)

Aunt Sally wasn't it?

Mother: Sally.

(Sally.)

Aunt Sally Stuart. Yeah Aunt Sally Stuart.

(Stewart, I wonder?)

Mother: S-t-e-u-r-t I believe they--

I believe it was. I don't know nothing about it. Now that was Becky Snodgrass's mother. That was her mother over there. We all lived right here.

(They some of them pretty close to full-bloods maybe?)

Yeah, they was sure, right smart, of--they'd run back to three-quarter.

SHOOTING INCIDENT

(What, anything special that you can remember back in those early days that you kind of like to live over?)

I might. I guess there would be a whole lot to tell, and knowed it would really. Uh-- Bub Trainer and Dave Trainer. Bub was--he lived in the country but he was a right smart rounder. And when he'd come to town he'd get a little drunk, I guess. And so, I seen him and me and my brother was the first one to him when he was shot down in Tahlequah.

(He was shot?)

I can't tell you what year it was. I was -- I was --

(This Trainer man was shot? He was shot himself, or somebody shot him?)

No--no.

(What were they after him for?)
