

(Well, how old a community is Tailholt?)

(To lady in background) Mabel, how long has it been here?

/You mean how long has it been called Tailholt?/

(Yeah, or how long has it been a little community here?)

Well, we've been here longer than fifty years. You know when Mabel and I were married there were a lot of houses here.

/Yeah, there was a store here./

We commenced building here good about fifty years ago.

(Yeah.)

So you can say about fifty years.

(Uh-huh. Who gave the community this name?)

/We don't know./

We don't know

/We've heard several different versions of it. We don't know.

(Yeah. Well, it's an unusual name isn't it?)

/Yes./

Oh yeah. People sometimes laugh at you.

(Yeah.)

Seeing Tailholt.

/It goes by Tailholt and Tails Community./

(Yeah.)

/And (words not clear) Baptist Church right here./

(Who put in the first store here? Does anyone know?)

Must have been (words not clear) remember? Wasn't it? This one right down here on the corner?

/It probably was. That's the first one I can remember./

Cross the road from the street.

(Yeah.)

And it burnt down.

Let me see, and you know that (words not clear).
