

/Yeah, Miss Sanders was living in it./

Yeah, Miss Sanders was living in that.

/Now she's the first one that I know./

Hes' the first one that I remember anything about.'

(Yeah.)

And that's been long time ago. Forty years ago, anyway. And then they moved across. That was the church house where (words not clear) is.

And they moved it across there. And then I think Leonard Awepson put the store in there.

That store has changed hands a lot.

(Well.)

(Words not clear.)

(Uh-huh. And how long did Mug Willis run the store here?)

/Wouldn't have the least idea how many years. But quite a long while./

(Yeah. I know he was, well they used to call him the mayor of Tailholt.)

/You know they had a store at Barber, one at Stilwell./

(Yeah.)

/ And now she's got that one in Tahlequah./

CHURCHES - PREACHERS

(Well, have they had a church here all the time too?)

/No, they haven't. (Static) No pastor was working in this area.

/Jeff, did you all ever find out how long the church has been out there?

/You didn't/

(Interruption)

/I was talking to a lady down here, now we've not been here (words not clear).

/But I was talking to this lady right down here and she told me that the preacher that was preaching when they organized the church, they organized it up here at the school house./

It was Willard Jameson.
