

He robbed this little old store over here.

(Well.)

Him and Ky. We had more outlaws, Cherokee County afforded more outlaws than any other county (static) (words not clear).

(Interruption)

Charley Brackett went to a little old town way up in yonder and robbed it. Robbed the bank.

(Yeah.)

And they told him. They guys told him, says Charley you can't do it. He says one way to find out is to get out of there. They hild it up and (words not clear.) They caught ever one of 'em. And then these here boys, (words not clear) daddy, there was two of them.

And they was with another bunch. They went up there in another place. I forgot the name of that place. And they told him, said, don't go up there, you can't make it. There's only one way of getting in and out. And they killed every one of those boys.

(Interruption)

This was the roughest country when we came here. It wasn't no more to hear of a man getting killed out there than nothing. And it just wasn't in the road, it was dances and everything else.

(Yeah.)

And these Indians had just drawed this strip payment. When we come here. They just robbed people (words not clear) their money. Some of them just run through their money. Went and bought them a winchester and a six shooter, that was all they wanted.

(Yeah.)

(Sentence not clear.) And then some of them put them up a little old store. There were a lot of little old stores, just selling close to home. And they'd rob them, Price and (words not clear) him.
