

do things little bit better than what you get out of it. And some people are not that way. They do it anyway and they get the good stuff, you know. Every man, you know, is lucky or maybe some way that they-- It's not what they get, it's what good they can do. What good they can do for the parents. To make it, you know, agreeable. So, lot of things went on like that in our time. I seen it and--
