

Riders, got his marker let's see-

(Were there any Miller over there?)

Yeah. John Miller.

(Yeah)

His is there just as you come in, as you go in the gate.

(Yeah)

The front one right on the west--

(That's right.)

His is right there.

(And the Hammers, did they ever use that place?)

I don't the Hammers. No, that was probably before my recollection.

FARMING - MAKING RAILROAD TIES - CATTLE RAISING IN EARLY DAYS

(Yeah back in those days most people farmed.)

That's right, that's right.

(Raised corn and cotton)

Wheat, Sorghumm and everything.

(Sorghumm. Yeah. Did they have lots of timber down on the bottom?)

Lot of timber. Lot of it. Clean down to the place where we made crossties, you know.

(Well)

And there was some Butlers lived down there.

(Well)

Down there some Butlers, yeah lots of old timers.

(Yeah)

And Hardings.

(Yeah, how about Ross?)

There was Rosses, too. Yes.

(Yeah)
