

down and cut his head off.

(Well)

(They must have been mean to cut a fella's head off.)

Oh yeah, just caught to him.

(Well. Yeah all of these old timers are gone now.)

(tape not clear for about 2 sentences)

Got to feeling around there with him. Arthur went to--Well went and sit down in his car, you know, about half drunk. This Indian, he kept easing up front (not clear) talking to him, and he had one of them old Hooker Bill knives and he caught him in there and cut his throat.

(Mercy)

Boy when he brought that knife across there, that guy fell and that Indian started to run. Somebody shot him. And that fella held his belly and drove that car to Wagoner and there was an old doctor they called Doc Bates--

(Yeah)

He got him out there and sewed him up. He laid there for a while before he got well.

(Well)

Now that was a mean thing. Worst I ever seen.

(Uh-huh, that's getting pretty mean.)

(Several sentences not clear)

(Yeah)

He was trying to find (words not clear) you just don't know (word not clear)

(That's right.)

You find them old rocks laying around (referring to headstones in cemeteries)

(That would be in west of Union Mission somewhere.)

That's right.

(Monument.)
