

come, oh, about ten o'clock and they--we go to Langley and have our dinner. Then they go home in the evening. I'm too weak I couldn't cook a big meal or get that much done and-- People got the mail and there was a few grocery stores.

(You was born before they had a town.)

Baxter Springs.

(Yeah.)

Oh yes like up there are a few. There's very few that I know now. The old timers aren't there anymore. Some of 'em come on Sunday afternoons or whenever you have a time and that'll be enough. I said the time has come when I'm gonna--when I can't do and you'll have to. I'm just lucky to be out of the wheel chair from arthritis and I sure am... He's at Tahlequah now. Painterton. I guess you've heard of him.

(I know him.)

Oh he sure was a doctor. If it's possible I'd go down there to him, but I can't have no way to go. Two doctors here at one time. Dr. Hollingsworth and Dr. Leonard.

(Oh you had two doctors here at Strang--)

(End of Tape.)
