(Laughter.)

(Words not clear.)

So we had animal doctors in our family.

(Was that just good for horses and cows?)

Yes just good for horses and cows. And they used to bring them horses and cows over there for her to doctor. I forgot about that. See how poor my memory is.

(Sentence not clear.)

Yeah he was a snake doctor. He could touch snake any kind. He didn't care what kind. He could walk up to it. Lucille was telling me one time they saw him one time he called out to a snake companion on the lake. (Sentence not clear.)

BUILDING A SWEAT HOUSE

They were in the sweat house together. (Words not clear). He used to go in sweat house for hours, built his own sweat house.

(How did he build it? Do you remember?)

He built them out of these willows. He , kind of, I don't know what you call them, round -- .

(Like an igloo you call them.)

And then he put a tent canvas, and then another canvas, just make it air tight in there. And then he has this bricks out there, outside, build a fire and makes it red hot.

(Was it bricks or was it a special type of stone?)

It was special kind of stone I guess. Cause some bricks will melt.

(Yeah, when they -- .)

And he'd bring them in and then he had a hole in the ground to bring them in. And then he'd pour water on them,steam come up. And if you're going in there with him you can't come out. And you can't raise that canvas up
