

Her did it some and her aunt.

(Those are nice. You make those out of buckbush?)

Um-huh.

(Oh, that's nice. You have /inaudible/.)

Yeah. I'm going to see about heating up coffee.

(Okay.)

CHILDREN

(How many children did you have?)

Three.

(Three)

One died.

(So you have two, now. They live right here by yōu?)

One boy, one girl.

(That's good. One boy and one girl.)

Boy forty-five years old and the girl is thirty-five.

(Oh. And you have lots of grandchildren.)

MR. BLACKFOX IS INDIAN DOCTOR

(How long has grandpa been doctoring?)

Two years.

(Two or ten years?)

I was asking about the medicine, you know, and she said it's worth money teach them now, teach them for nothing. That's the way they believe it. And she said she loved to help anybody in trouble, you know, just not to be telling who helped you, just don't name it who helped you. She said someone that beginning medicine, you know, is not really in medicine, fooling people.

(Who was that?)

(Name not clear)

(Not an Indian doctor?)

My husband. He was Chickasaw.
