

this and if you don't care, then, well, don't sign it, but--)

That's what she said. They had plenty enough to eat, you know, when they started drove 'em. She said they tie 'em (not clear) and left 'em.

(Did they come out of Georgia or North Carolina?)

North Carolina.

(Oh, you came from North Carolina?)

North Carolina.

(I can understand her pretty good, too.)

Well, she told me while ago she said they--Dan--they going to get married.

They going to make a home just on account of Bonnie. That's what she said, said they's what they'll find out. She said she mad at Bonnie.

(Oh, they looked?)

Yeah. She said these boys (not clear) talking to the devil. That boy talking to Hooley, he sat down on the ground.

(The big one?)

Hooley likes him. He's forty-five years old.

(Oh?)

He never married.

(Oh, he never did.)

He just stayed around his Moma and Daddy. She said she raised that girl right there, carry round. They adopted her when, was just little.

He was white man, daddy. He's like Bonnie, isn't he? (Laughter)

She said they both had hair just like Bonnie Jo, don't it? She don't dye her hair anymore, ain't it, Bonnie.

SUMMARY BY FIELD WORKER

(This morning I have been interviewing Aunt Polly BlackFox and, her name before she got married was Cochran and Aunt Polly was born and raised right around Oaks here. They now live in Oaks, Oklahoma. And Aunt Polly is married to John BlackFox and John BlackFox is known