

(Yeah.)

And another one he runs one in Wichita (words not clear) sixteen mechanics down here outside of Wichita. This one over here on this corner -- (Static) all the plumbing up there and caring for the (too low) -- He works two days in that plant up on that hill. My brother back in '30 and '31, my brother and I was staying up to (not clear) just up in Wichita, Kansas there. Well, then Kansas had a high (not clear) than Oklahoma.

A RECRUITER FOR STUDENTS TO VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

So, they sent out a guy, a recruiter to get students. We knew this guy. He and his dad used to be nightwatchmen up at the (not clear). He came here. I was gone. I was out at the ranch. He got a couple of boys down at Marble City. One boy down at Marble City. One down south of there (not clear). Had one boy at Muskogee to come. Another fella come from Pawnee. I'd been out--I'd been out cutting timber at Tahlequah. I was going out to the northeast Eldon Reservoir. I forget what (too low) -- Along there where that Medical Art building is there now. Well, this guy had an old heat up hat belonged to (not clear). He and my brother and this other boy that was there (too low). They hollered, "Where you going?" I started out at Northeastern (too low) going to school up there. I said, been thinking about it. (static) -- I said, "Where you going?" Oh, he said, I got to go to Pawnee--going up to Wichita. He said I'm working for American Indian Institute now. And I'm out picking up students! We got some goes to college, university -- Some of 'em is fulltime students over at the university. Some of 'em is part time students. I said, "Well, I, could I get a job down there somewheres working. Yeah, he said, "You can get a job right there at the Institute. They'll give you a job there." "What does it pay an hour?" He said, "Well it depends
