

EARLY DAY SETTLERS - GEORGIA, - NORTH CAROLINA.

(Then he must have come into this country from someplace else then, didn't he?)

Yeah. That's what my dad used to say. What about this (not clear because of static.) 'Bout when them Indians was drove out of North Carolina and Georgia?

(Well, that's what I've heard, but I don't know much about it.)

I heard that too. But I don't know when its coming off.

(I don't know.)

But I heard 'em say they're going to show that on the T.'. (Not clear.)

(No, they won't know what happened in that time. 'Cause no one is living now.)

No. Nobody knows. They just have an idea about 'how they looked.

(Cause all the suffering and the sickness and the dying that took place. They can't even get it recorded like it was. There's just too much of it. Too bad.)

QUESTIONS THE GOVERNMENT DECISIONS

My dad's folks, they come from North Carolina.

(Well.)

And Georgia, somewhere up in there. This here payment, you know, last payment, the Cherokees had, you know.

(Yeah.)

The government owed 'em several million dollars. And they only got $280.00 around. See, they didn't give 'em all that money.

(No.)

They held back some of it. And for the longest time they was trying to get
