

Boy they caught some good ones through there. Really caught lots of 'em. Noodle 'em.

(Yeah. I've heard about noodling. I've never been where they did any of it thought.)

Well, they done lots of it up and down this stream. Several rock holes in this creek.

(Yeah.)

Along the west side. Them old big catfish make a hole back in there. I never did noodle either. But I remember the days I went with a boy lot of times. He'd run that old noodle up and back again. Take his fish sack along catch them old big ones.

(Well, that would really be something.)

Oh yeah.

('Course those old boys long time ago they knew how to handle 'em, I guess.)

Oh lord, yeah.

(They weren't afraid of water either.)

No.

JOHN CHRISTIE BUILT A LOG HOUSE WHICH IS STILL STANDING - OVER 100 YEARS OLD.

There's an old log house up there he built. Nobody goes up there anymore. Its been there for years and years. Maybe a hundred years.

(Well.)

I don't remember when I was going to school. Well, there wasn't no sideroads like these.

(Yeah.)

Oh there might have been an old wagon road. But there wasn't none like these.

(Well, you've seen a lot of changes here in your time.)

Yeah.

(You remember some of the families that were living here when you were going
