

York, places like that. It was a pretty big farming group. Now course, it never was cattle industry down in that area as much as it was agriculture. Because out on the prairie, out of Porum is where they had more cattle. That big Braxton Ranch, you know. It was between Warner and Webber Falls. That was one of the big ranches of the day. Now one of them Braxtons is out in Texas now, that's got the biggest sheep ranch in the United States. And that's where his folks came from.

WELL KNOWN OUTLAWS IN THE AREA

(Yeah. You mentioned while ago about the Starrs. Was that the group that the Younger Brothers were with?)

They was supposed to been with Belle, you know.

(Yeah)

They named Younger Bend after them. Her place was up there in Younger Bend. That's where (remainder of sentence not clear). Course, I never 'did hear too much on that. Course I heard my mother and my dad both say--well my dad went to Belle's funeral. My mother had seen her lots of times.

(Well.)

My grandmother and her sister didn't accpet her at all. She wasn't allowed to come on Tom Starr's place at all.

(Well)

Tom accepted her, but his wife didn't. She wouldn't allow her. So I been told. Now I don't know if she wasn't allowed to come there to the house.

BRIARTOWN CEMETERIES - MONEY HUNTERS - STARR RELATIVES

(We were talking about that Briartown cemetery where you was telling me about this fella Luttrell and this fella Spring Frog. I saw the--in some newspaper, one time, the inscription that was on Spring Frog's crypt or stone or whatever it was there. And it was all written in Cherokee. Did you ever hear the translation of that? As to what--)
