

(Yeah, I think so.)

Haskell county, it wasn't in the Creek Nation too. No, it was Choctaw.

(Choctaw Nation.)

Yeah, it was Choctaw.

PARENTS - OTHER FAMILY MEMBERS

(What was your daddy's name? First name?)

Robert.

(Robert.)

Robert, Ross, Robert.

(Dad was talking about it the other day. Said he couldn't remember what your Daddy's--What family did your mother come from? That was something else he couldn't remember.)

Well, she was white woman.

(Yeah.)

She come from a Milsap.

(Milsap. That's right. He told me once before, but he had forgotten. And I couldn't remember.)

She was a Milsap. Bill was my great-grandfather when they came from back east. They brought a lot of people with 'em. White people.

(Yeah.)

HOME IN INDIAN TERRITORY - ARMY BURNED EVERYTHING.

Got married, you see. They brought what they had and they thought they'd settle in the Indian Territory. They'd settle in--They settled in Arkansas. They settled down there in that--that Creek's named after 'em. Ross Creek. And it heads right there at Walsh.

(Yeah.)

There's a big valley there. And there was crossroad through there. Texas, Kansas, then from east to west. When they come in there, they all settled--
