

come out there and talk to me then. Told her what I wanted. And he was a great big buck. He was asleep when she called him. I just can't understand that.

(No.)

But I tell you what you find, Jim. You find nine times out of ten fair skinned men likes a dark skinned woman and vice versa.

(They do.)

Most they do.

(Tape skip)

(Words not clear) found the Indians up there living up there. But you find a sorry one and he's the sorriest man in the world.

(That's right. You find a good one and he's a good one too. You find all kinda of 'em.)

When I was in Highway Dept. I had that payroll up there. I worked with the Indians. Had a little fella down here out of Possum Holler, Lee Rock. Old Lee Rock, he writes the prettiest hand you ever saw, and good worker. He was a little fella. And doggone his soul, when he got his check he just (words not clear) Had a pretty good size family. And his old boys wasn't no good at all.

(Well.)

So after I got kicked off up there and laid off, they laid Lee off. I was up there one day and Lee said, Charles, you know how much money I made and you made for me? Said, no. He said, over 10,000 bucks. I said, how much you got, Lee? He said, Ain't got any. (laughter)

(He ain't got any.)

He was off.

(Well, that's typical with a lot of them.)

And I thought lots of him. I've loaned him money. And he wouldn't pay you
