

We all got to laughing and he woke up. And after he pulled all this paper off his face, he gave him a quite a talk and oh, I don't know, he gave him 15 demerits for going to sleep. And I think each of us 5 demerits for putting that paper all over his face.

GRADES:

(Were they pretty strict on your study habit's and the grades you made, and did they require pretty good grades?)

Oh, yeah. They came around quite often during study hour. That's how we came to catch that boy in that condition. We'd covered his face with those little wads of paper balls and dried on there and we'd started on a second coat over him.

(How often did they let you go home or did you go home when you were in school?)

Oh, I didn't ever go home until the end of the term myself. I was there all together about 27 months. I finally run away from there.

STAYING DURING THE SUMMER:

(Mr Tyner didn't you tell me this afternoon, I don't know whether we recorded it or not, that you and someone else stayed there one summer?)

Yeah, Bob Sanders.

(Bob Sanders. And what did you do there? Was that when school was out?)

We swept the halls. Did a little painting. Got ready for next term. We had the building up in good shape.

SIZE OF BUILDING:

(How big was the building? I don't think I ever got --)

I think it was a front with two stories. Wasn't it? Most of it was two stories and then parts of it were three stories.

(Remember how many rooms they had in the building?)

Duncan: I don't.

Tyner: Well, believe there was in--I believe 60 was--each one was numbered 62-- well, capacity was--number of boys at school about 800 there all together. I don't remember, lot of rooms were four in room. Mr. Duncan: All those rooms up-
