

it's good for her, and the kids talk around. That's way I am with Todd, you know. I like went crazy when they got him way from me.

---used to live right over here, and (name not clear) separated, I have to take care of the kids. And Lillie May was abed. Oh, it sure good to hold on me that time. Lillie May's kid, I never had no (inaudible) kid. They sure have a time sometimes, I guess. I sure get sick some time. It is a little bit hard on me. (Static)

Maggie: After suppers, sometimes before supper, they had a branch out over there, and I say, "No, don't take him back." (Laughter) (Sentence not clear.) Clean up in there in tub, take a bath. Uh-huh, that's what, you know, I gave them--you know, all my folks, they were clean, you know. You know, all, her mother, and everything you know. They just clean people you ever saw. Our (inaudible), you know what I have. I do all I can, you know. And that's the way we were. Mama had a bunch of kids. Sometimes, on Saturday--

I like to clean home, but I just can't do it no more.

Maggie: She can't do it. She keep clean house.

(Well, I think everything looks good, Aunt Suzie.)

Sometimes, it takes me all day. (Laughter)

Maggie: Yeah, it does takes--just like I said, it takes to clean up the house.

Yes. I don't clean up, somebody come in.

Maggie: Yeah, and that's the time somebody come in when we don't clean the house up, you know. (Tape inaudible for few seconds.)

---not much, just once in awhile.

(Does it hurt your eyes?)

uh-huh.

(Oh, uh-huh.)
