

(Oh!)

I sure 'nough got weak. Blood just black like that, and I just--and it gushes up.

(Oh, it has probably been draining all night, hasn't it?)

Uh-huh.

(While you was asleep probably.)

I guess I swallow all that, too. (Laughter)

(Uh-huh, so then, you went back that day to the hospital?)

Let's see, yeah, that evening.

(They let you in that day.)

Uh-huh. Annie had to send me--no, I went there next day.

(Oh, the day after.)

Mmm-hmmm. I thought maybe it'd quit, you know.

(But it didn't, huh? So, you finally had to go.)

Well, I was getting weaker all the time, you know, and I lay down in there in the divan when they come after me.

(Well, they ever tell you what you had, Aunt Suzie?)

Huh?

(Did they ever tell you what you had?)

I never did find out what the cause of it--what--what they come from, that blood.

(Oh.)

The reason they send me Fort Smith, you know. They didn't have nothing to use like that, how come they send me over there.

(Oh, I see.)

And when we left Tahlequah, never did stop when--we get there overnight.

Just keep coming.

Maggie: Boy, I mean just coming up every minute. I (inaudible--static).
