

an Indian Education specialist with the State Department of Education, will discuss Cherokee rituals, legends, and myths. Now, the reason that he's coming in here is because Dr. Gregory and Dr. Strickland have an appointment elsewhere and can't make it that particular week, but it also fits in, perhaps unique here because it's out of time when these were still rampant but perhaps dying out. Are there any questions in general? We thank you very much. Please come back. Tell others about the series. We like you to bring a friend with you when you come. Thank you.

(End of lecture. Remainder of tape is blank.)