

(Yeah.)

Great, big tall guy.

(Oh yeah, big fella. Ned Hoskins. I didn't get to know him in my time very much. But he was quite a man, wasn't he?J)

Oh yeah.

(He was a good sailor(?) Good preacher. Yeah, I always did think a whole lot of his widow and his children. They were good folks.)

Did you go up to the Magus' Cemetery there right this way from?

(Yeah. About ten people, buried there.)

Will Magus.

(Yeah. Is that Richard's folks?)

Richard's uncle.

(Richard's uncle.)

His dad and this John Magus father were half-brothers.

(Well. I didn't know. You know they don't take care of it anymore.

Nobody ever goes to see about it.)

You--that big brother os Richard's at Stilwell.

(Yeah, that big one. Yeah.)

You know anything more about him?

(Well, I'll tell you. He tries awful hard to be good.)

The old devil's my nephew.

(Yes sir. I enjoy being around him 'cause he knows a lot of people.)

Oh yeah, he's been taken to these--

(Yeah.)

No, I have a son at Sapulpa and a daughter, and I got one at Broken Arrow.

I got two of 'em at home

(Yeah.)

Two daughters.
