

Right. It will be a long time before we can get it perfect. And we may never get it perfect. But overall, I think it's a darn good program. I enjoy working there.

(But as far as, I mean I think we started talking about it two or three times. But as far as locals, really, you only have about two or three locals in it?)
In the Drama.

(In the Drama itself, and the rest are from out of town?)

Well, we've got local people. I think we've got more than two or three. We've got a

(I mean Prop men and Scenery men and everything I mean. I'm talking about the whole Drama.)

The whole Drama, I'd say about ten.

(Ten--maybe ten?)

Maybe fifteen people.

(Local?)

I haven't really checked on it. I've never. . . .

(Well, what's the total cast?)

Around fifty (50).

(About 50.)

Or 55.

(And the rest of 'em are from out of town.)

Out of North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky. None of the a. . . .

(Some of them have Indian blood though, right?)

Oh, yeah, they can trace their history back to the Cherokee's but they just don't think Indian.

(But they're not real Indians, are they?)

That's right. I keep saying that.

(Well, I know what you mean. You mean Indian people who identify as Indian.)

So, we have some locals in it, as far as Indians are concerned, we've got one
