

(Ollie Miller. What was his job?)

'I'll say, Ah ha le mak la.

(Oh, Ah ha le mak la.)

Ah ha le mak la.

(What were his duties?)

Ride horseback and look for bootlegger and make whiskey and if he caught 'em with it, why take 'em in.

(And what happened to the whiskey?)

They say he poured it out.

(Did it--was it a fine to be caught with whiskey? Did they--were they punished?)

Yes. Why, Indians wasn't supposed to have whiskey and punished if got caught.

(Well who did the bootlegging? Indians or whites?)

Whites. They got it from the whites. Over here 'cross the river.

(What did the Light Horsemen do in addition to enforcing prohibition and capturing--catching whiskey runners?)

Stealin'. Course they kill one 'nother, they have to turn 'em in.

DIFFERENT PUNISHMENT FOR CRIMES

(Do you remember any cases where people were punished for any of these crimes?)

No, I never seen any, but (not clear).

(What was the punishment?)

Well, I don't know of anyone that was--where they whipped them.

(These public whippings?)

'Public whippings, 25, 50 for thievery that time, folks down here eat that.
