

The Bible says for if you go anywhere you ought to be able to pray and have good intentions as Christians, and it might be that they might save souls. And then others there, if they're Christian he don't want to go to that, where they have that.

(So that's why you didn't go as a youngster. Your parents were--)

I wasn't raised up in my young days till I got bigger you know.

And I wouldn't a went after I was married unless if it wasn't for my second husband, but I guess he had other ideas.

(Was there something--)

I took my children down there a time or two. They didn't have-- they didn't care much for it.

(Was your second husband Indian?)

White.

(White. Well, it was after you were married the second time then, before you went to dances?)

Yes. I never went to no dances for Mr. Little.

(Well, you were a grown woman then before you went to dances. Or to ball games either?)

No. I never care much about ball games.

(Well, were they pretty rough at that time--the ball games?)

Yes. I think they were.

(Did anyone get killed or hurt?)

I don't know. I never did go to one of the rough ball games, I was afraid of 'em. They go out, way off in the country, have their regular fightin' game that they have sometime. They have fight in it, two sides.
