

Into the house again.

(Well.)

Lot of the boys.

RECALLS EARLY DAY SETTLERS

(Yeah, there used to be a lot of people live over where Camp Gruber is now. One lady lives way up that way. Katie Sam. She was born over there about where Camp Gruber is. And the government come and they took their home. They had to move out. They moved way up north.

She said lots of families in there. They moved out. Groundhogs and Washingtons and Squirrel, and the Watts families all had to move away. But out here on Sanders Flats and this Cave Springs country, they haven't moved anybody. Maybe they won't bother 'em.)

Right around this mountain. Lot of Indians, lots kids back this way. They don't bother nothing.

(No, well, that's good.)

REFUSED TO MOVE TO ALLOW POWER LINE TO BE PUT THERE

I don't know what we'd do if everybody /word not clear/. I ain't going to get out.

(Well, no. No, this is your home here.)

Yeah. You know, these power lines, power lines through right there in the trees way back yonder. You know, when they started the high lines first time, they come on this right straight on this same place. They come on this way. They went through right there in top of this house. Right straight on. A man come in there, in here. He told me, he said they'd done cleaned up up south back this way. He was just now --

(Yeah.)

What you going to do. What do you want to do. He said that highline supposed to be going through the top of your house. I said, "Well, I don't want you to do that." He said, "You'll have to move your
