

Yeah, after night. Lots of them, oh, about that long. Of course, you can catch them day time with a bait hook, but sun'perch on the (not clear).

(Yeah, I sure wish we could gig nowadays. I missed out on that part.

There's no more eel, isn't there?)

I don't know about that. I have seen seseal.

(I like to eat them eel. I haven't seen one since they put in the dam. I haven't seen one since that time.)

Of course, there's some down where you can't see them, I guess.

(I talked with a lot of Indian fellows, and they say that they haven't seen one ever since that dam went in.)

No, I guess since this river--they sure ruined it.

(Yeah, I know this country sure changed a whole lot. Just in fifty years, it's all different, and the people are getting different too.

The young people don't care much for anything.)

They don't care about nothing. They just like to go down the road.

(Yeah, they just go down the road.)

They don't even go to church--none of 'em.

(Is that right? Well, that's a shame. They should go to church.)

There's quite a few around here. Some of 'em go to church. I go to church when I am able to go. I just got--come out of the hospital.

I was in the hospital sixteen days.

RECALLS NAMES OF OLD TIMERS

(Do you remember Swimmer Henry who lived by Little Rock? Is he back in the hospital now?)
