

think that hour's up, I would run to the door and say, "Aunt so and so, what time is it?" She'd say, "You can play a little while longer, I'll tell you when the time is here." When the hour's up, she'd come to the door and holler. Man, you talk about streaking it home. Better be there too, and they be there.

(But they've changed now.)

Jenks: It's pitiful now.

Alice: Well, now, you don't know where a little five year old is. You don't know where he is. Their parents don't know half the time where they are. But I didn't raise mine that way. I got seven. And I knew where every one of mine was until they got grown and got away from me. Well, yet, I know where they are.

(When you think about it now--of all the changes that have come up today, just think what it's going to be like ten or twenty years from now.)

Alice: Well, that's the reason I said awhile ago, that the time isn't long because the Bible fullfilling say. Now, 10 years from today, what a big change.

(Even from now.)

Alice: Yes, everything that God said would be before the end, we'd live to see a whole lot of that already, and there's a whole lot yet to come. He said before the end, the Devil would be loose on this earth for a season. He is now. They're doing everything in the world that they could think to do.

MORE ABOUT CHANGES

(You've been up here since you were 18 years' old. You've seen a lot of changes that have come to this country, haven't you?)

Alice: Oh, yes, indeed, I have. My goodness, yes. It was Indian Territory,
