

(Uh-huh)

(Speaks Creek). Hickory nut sofky (speaks Creek) (Speaks Creek)

I wished you'd go down there and explain some of the things to her about the Indians. She said Creek Indians didn't have no clan.

(Oh she did)

Yea, that's what she said. That all Indians have clans but the Creek. I said "Walter I want you to go down there and first chance you get and I want you to tell her that." I said, "You bring up the subject." "So she'll know. You know Walter knows lot of things you know that. She wanted to come and ask questions and things like that.

(Uh-hum)

Tape recorder (speaks Creek.) Never did come.

(It must be Mrs. Denton. Kind of a slim.)

Uh-hum. Yeah

(That's her then. I know there's some things up there that (speaks Creek.)

Somebody drew a stomp dance (speak Creek). (Speaks Creek) I don't know nothing about it. But Barney said that's wrong. (speak Creek) (speaks Creek) I'd like to tell it (speaks Creek) That's right too. (speaks Creek)

(Oh you did.)

Yeah. Even after Walt and I married we lived down there Eufaulgee (speaks Creek). See Lou had never went.

(Oh)

Anything like that. So when we went to Holdenville we had some friends they just loved to go.

(Speak Creek)

(Yeah. Speaks Creek. I saw it. We caught a ride with Lucy Gray from Tulsa one time when we was trying to catch a bus at Henryetta. (speaks Creek) Stomp dance (speaks Creek). Do you know Betha Gray?)
