

steady. And I worked there. And that was no work. All I did was look after two children. All I did was help them with their lessons. It was good thing they were little children, they were in the second grade, so I could help them. I haven't been lonely. And when I'm at home, Loise would call me and say she's going to come other town, like Muskogee or Okmulgee or Tulsa or somewhere she wants me to go along. She let me know ahead of time. And I be ready and she'd come by and pick up. And I'd go and I'm never lonely on account of her. If it wasn't for her I guess I would have been but she pick me up. And I don't work anywhere but when I'm home I quilt a lot.

(Uh-huh)

So I've been doing pretty good. But, if it wasn't for my brothers and my grandchildren I guess. I would have been lonely. They've been staying with me, much as they could. If it wasn't for them I sure would have been lonely.

(Uh-huh)

When I go off anywhere when I come back I dont come back to an empty house, somebody be here. I get along just fine. And I go to church Wednesday night and I have the old car, it's old car but it takes me to church and to town and to the laundry, back and forth. I was blessed with that. I don't know how long I'll have that car but I still use it.

(You can't drive though can you?)

No. I can't. My brother drives. My grandson bought it but he let me use it. He wanted to put it in my name but I didn't want it. I told him to keep it in his name.

(Uh-huh)

I did think they'd allow me.
