

went to sleep they heard it talking out there. He said, "Now tomorrow you all go right straight, when you all get up just go right straight this way..toward the sun coming up. You all go that way and just walk, walk, walk and when night comes and you all go to sleep, I'll be over there and I'll all fix you up again." He said, "I said I'M going to fix you alls feet again." Then after four days and four nights you alls feets going to get well. Going to be just as hard as a rock. Just like my feet." And that coyote said, "Feel my feet." And they feel the bottom of that coyotes feet, and it was real hard, you know.. you know..go over rock and everything and don't hurt him. Coyote don't hurt his feet you know..keeps it from cracking up and when ever he run through the grass..rocks..you alls feet going to be like my feet. And when you run you all gonna run like me. Fast, nobody can catch you. And so that night, they had walked all day again. They went to bed again. And here comes this coyote again. It follows them long ways, for four nights, just doing that to them. After the fourth day of that morning they started, and he said, "Let's try what the coyote told us. Let's try it and let's hold on to each other's hands and lets run and see how fast we can run." After they hold one anothers hands and they beat it. They run fast and they was just going like coyotes through grasses and everyt ing, rocks and never did hurt their feet. And finally..I don't know how many days..they went on and one till they found the Indian camps. And they got back to the Indians and when they got home, they want and told those Indians what that coyote had done for them. Made the bottom of their foot real hard just like a rock. Didn't feel no stickersor nothing. They just went over everyt ing and got home and that's what the coyote done.
