

(Will you teach it to anybody?)

I guess I could. And this song my father learned me--the meaning of this song is if I'm lonely and no place to go for help or anything like that--when I be by myself, just like a person that living out there by yourself--no place to go and nobody to lean on for help or anything when you are having hard time. So you want anything real bad--my uncle before he passed away he learned me that song--that whenever you think about me, whenever you want anything bad, when you get hard up because you got real hard time--you going to wish for this and that--who's going to get you the money? I'm the only one that can get you money. And my mother too--when we pass away, this our place is divided between our grandchildren, and you and your brothers and its going to be scattered and you all won't have money to buy what you are using today.. She said "When you come by yourself like that, when you really want something bad, I want you to learn this song and I'm going to listen to you and when I pass away, I'll hear you, see. Anything that you want." That's what he told me. He said, "you not going to be rich though, but you'll get anything you want." Just like the peoples you going to doctor and the peoples going to pay you blankets, shawls, shoes, moccasins, money, like that. That's the way you going to live. That's the way you going to get around. You won't have to buy--and actually up to today I don't buy blankets, I don't buy shawls, I don't buy moccasins, I don't buy shoes, I don't buy clothes--just the people that I doctor give me all that stuff. And one thing, when they come to me--anybody comes to me and say, "I want you to doctor me." Bring goods, plain goods. No figure or nothing. Dark green goods. They have to take that and
