

(Yeah.)

You could get sense of the direction you wanted why that's the way you went.

(Was his home in Missouri?)

Yeah.

(It was. Yeah, I've read about Frank and Jesse James.)

Well, I've seen Frank. I seen my dad talking to him. Oh, it's always been a pretty peaceful community. Oh, you have fights, but then that goes with pretty near any neighborhood.

(Oh, yeah. Well, then the lawmen didn't have much work up here in those early days.)

Well, not too much. Our father was Indian police.

(Yeah.)

See all the law they had was federal law. And these agencies had Indian police.

(Yeah. What was your daddy's name?)

Tom Captain.

(Same as your name)

Yeah.

(Well.)

You can walk down No. 10.
