

is there any of them left?)

Oh yeah. Yeah. They're due to get quite a bit of money.

(Yeah. Well that's good. Then let's see the Modocs. I haven't run across any Modocs yet.)

Modocs I don't know of any. All the Modocs left Oklahoma and went to Oregon.

(All of them left. Well.)

Left Oklahoma and went to Oregon.

(Let's see that was the Spicers -- and the -- let's see who else was in that bunch? The Martins.)

Oh, I know that there chief of the Wyandots. His name is Sharlow.

(Sharlow.)

Sharlow. But I don't know what his first name is. I went to school with him.

(Yeah.)

I think it's Faith. Faith Sharlow. Faith Sharlow.

(Faith Sharlow.)

But Mrs. Neberging would know.

EDUCATION

(Where'd you go to school Tom, when you were young fellow?)

Well, I first went to Wyandotte. At Seneca Indian training School. Then I went to school at Haskell Institute.

(Well.)

Lawrence, Kansas.

(Yeah.)

And that's where I ran off with Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show.

(Well.)

I traveled with him all that year.
