

Skin their legs (not clear) I sold some squirrel hides too the other day.

(Well!)

I got a dollar a piece for 'em.

(Well, it don't take long to skin a squirrel, does it?)

No, it don't. I've killed from four--from three to four and sometimes five a day.

(You can make quite a bit of money.)

The other day I sold three and four maybe five. I could eat squirrel every day.

(You get to eat the squirrel and sell the hide too. That's pretty good.)

(Tape not clear)

(Does anyone make that anymore?)

No, I don't hink so.

EARLY DAY WOMEN COOKED WILD GAME, IT WAS APPRECIATED

(Well, that would be good. Yeah, those old Indian ladies they sure knew how to cook, didn't they? And coon, they knew how to cook coon.)

(Tape not clear)

(Yeah, ground hog that's good eating.)

(Tape not clear)

(Yeah, well, do you still have any groundhog here? Have you still got groundhog around here?)

I guess so. (Tape not clear)

EARLY PEOPLE, PLACES, CONDITIONS, BURIAL PLACES

(Louis Hawkins. Well.)

And just south from Iron Post. This Iron Post straight south (not clear)
