

(Yeah.)

And Peggs, a quarter of a mile here. (Not clear) section, right in the middle of the section we buried this old man.

(Uh-huh)

And I think we had it fenced in everywhere. They made us move back.

(Uh-huh)

Threw outside (not clear)

(Yeah.)

We had a fence around it. Quite a ways.

There wasn't no folks or nothing.

(Yeah)

(Sentence not clear) graves on that side. You could tell where the grave had been. Tombstones all broke or something (not clear) what made him die.

(Yeah)

(Sentence not clear)

(Yeah)

The old man that raised me, you know, and the old lady, they knowed brothers and sisters and all them (not clear)

(Yeah)

Yeah, they married people. Of course they grew up (not clear). Had money buried in the ground.

(That's right. Yeah. They buried money in the ground.)

Right in the ground.

(Oh, yeah, lots of it. No one ever found it. Down at the old Polly Sage place south of Peggs there. Did you ever know where that place was?)
