

Paula Love over here at Clarmore?

(Are the any Indians still around Tiawah and in that country or are they all gone?)

Well let's see, no there's an--

(Do you think at one time that hillside was just covered with Indians there. By the way did you ever hear what the word Tiawah meant?)

No. Tiawah. No.

(I just often wondered if it was just was a proper name like some of our names like, Charles and George and John and so on.)

I wouldn't be surprised--that country used to be--settled up, the Vanns down there--Provines they lived down there. Yes there was one family, the McCoy family--there this sideup there the other side--Arch McCoy. Now Mose Vann got one son left, William Vann, down south and west of Tiawah and yes, there some back there's some Rosses in there, Cherokees there. Sam Ross was in there and Lawthers, and let's see, Ed Housingfox has got to be a pretty good place over in Rogers County.

(Now all right.)

Mrs. Housingfox and Ed kept them going for years in there. There were hard times; I believe, if I'm not mistaken that is some of their allotment there that Ed has, that Ed bought. I am not sure but I think it is.

Well let's see, now I believe they leased their oil in there, on his.

Yeah, I believe that's about it.

MEANING OF SOME OF THE INDIAN NAMES FOR TOWNS

(Now the Cherokee names of towns has always fascinated me and I've tried my best to find out what some of them were like you know Catoosa, and--

(Static) -- Oolagah now that's one I couldn't find out.)

That's Oolagah. You know what Talala is?
