

(Oh, I bet that was quite a place.)

Yeah.

(And it had a post office, too, didn't it?)

(Informants next two sentences are unintelligible.)

(Has that country always been covered with timber up in there?)

No. My mother used to watch deer come inside the yard at the house.

(Well my goodness.)

(Unintelligible sentence,)

(Oh yeah its grewed up:)

I guess it's just (not clear). Seems like what you do. (Unintelligible.)

(Well it's coming back now.)

Yeah it should have been here, I guess.

(I guess so.)

If you--no, you too young to go to school at Seminole aren't you?

(Yes)

(Not clear.)

(Did you go to seminaries?)

(Unintelligible.)

(Well was it your grandfather that started they--that first church out there?)

Yeah.

(That's what I thought.)

(Unintelligible.)

(Yeah, I remember now.)

(Next minute of informant's conversation is not clear.)

(Well that must have been wonderful country out there.)

Oh that was wonderful country. (words not clear.)

(Oh I bet those fires were awful.)