

An old man and old lady and her boy. And we just swapped places there in July and I stayed there five years. Old gentleman that owned the place, and I moved over here where I was at, and the next year he come out there in the hay field and he rode a bicycle. I seen him coming across the field one day, I was a putting up hay, stacking it. He said, "Hey, I want you to move back on --.

End of Interview