

pretty good folks.)

Yeah, he robbed a bank a time or two.

(Yeah.)

SHOOTING INCIDENT

Arch did. Then finally shot his oldest boy. I just happened to see him one day and they was all--I don't know they just wanted to be friendly with me. I didn't--I was afraid to associate. I treated 'em good and all that, but I didn't mix too heavy with 'em. I seen him after they shot this boy. He shook hands with me. And said, Zek, I guess you heard my trouble. And I said, yeah, Arch, I said, I did. I figured somebody would kill him sometime or another. And he said, yeah, but I didn't think it would have to be me.

(Well.)

Said, he knew it himself, but he didn't think about it having to be him. But the boy, he was mean in a way and then he was easy to get along with in a way.

(Yeah.)

And, he told me one time, where--I can't think of that marshal at Grove. Pumped him with a pistol. And he said, let those--he told me a while before that, he said, they're trying to put me in that Grove jail over there. But, he said, that thing ain't big enough for me. I said, now Randolph, I said, they're liable to build a new one for you some of these days. But it wasn't, I don't guess three weeks that he showed me where this marshal pumped him with that pistol.

(Well.)

Had short pistol I said, Randolph, did build a new jail over at Grove. And he said, no. He said, no after I went in there. Said, that old guy hadn't killed me just try to kill anyone.
