

(Un-hun.)

Yeah, there were some Walkingsticks Freddy---

(Yeah.)

(Name not clear)

(Yeah.)

Oh, yeah.

(Was the Turtle family in there at that time?)

Who?

(The Turtle family, or did they come later?)

No, I don't remember them at all.

(And I know that there are some families by the name of Pumpkin.)

Yeah.

(Were they in there then?)

Yeah, and Rabbit.

(Yeah, Rabbit.)

Oh, if I could just think. There were a lot more in there. That was pretty thickly settled then.

(Well, it must have been.)

With Indians around there.

(What was their industry there, just farming?)

Yeah, what little we did was farming and cotton.

(And hunt and fish, I guess.)

Yeah, then there was the Carrys that lived there, Dick Carry. He married, oh, Blacktoes over there, Mary Blacktoes. (Sentence not clear) Oh, that was---

(You know that place down in there seemed like a long way from the main highway. Was there a main highway that went through there at one time?)

Well, there was a main road down in there.