

(Both he and his wife are part Indian.)

They came originally from down around Park Hill.

(Yeah.)

You know, that's down close to Tahlequah.

(Mmmm-hmmm.)

Now, I'll tell you who probably could tell you. Tom Hawkins' mother was a Park.

(Yeah.)

And I believe Mrs. David Still was a Park.

(Mmmm-hmmm.)

(Mmmm-hmmm.)

But Tom Hawkins would know. I guess---

(I'll get in touch with Tom and see what he can tell.)

You know Tom, don't you?

(Yes, I know him.)

Well, I don't know how you can get hold of him. He's a little bit---

(He has a phone, but I haven't been able to contact him by phone. But he has a--his name's in the phone book.)

Oh, yes.

(Uh-huh.)

Well, he's out on the ranch there. Tell you what, he's been living on the old home place down there. See, after--he sold out to Billy Franklin.

(Mmmm-mmm.)

And then Billy sold out to, oh, different people; and I don't know who has
