

those things and the events and happenings that took place. And actually wrote down his revelations. Wouldn't that have made a wonderful--).

Mrs. Oh my goodness, I told Bill, I said, I had a great grandmother that used to live with us part of the year. She was from Tennessee. She was widowed during the Civil War. And she didn't die until I was almost grown. She was over a hundred years old. And I told Bill, I said, how foolish I was. I wish I had written down all this stuff.

(That's right)

Mrs. But she had told us when we were young (static--words not clear)

(Yes)

Mrs. More information. When we lived over there, Bill and I lived, built our home out there when we were young. We lived there 28 years on the place where Bill was born. And so before we moved to Haskell. We just lived at Haskell 12 years before moving back. And that was thickly settled in there.

(Well, it must have been.)

Mr. See they moved out and took all the houses out.

(Yeah.)

Mrs. Lot of 'em and they put that contract through there now and doesn't look like the same country hardly since all those places are tore up.

RICH FARMING AREA--TRUCK FARMING

(That must have been a rich, fertile valley for farming in there too.)

Mrs. Oh it was. That bottom there where Mr. Hardy lived at one time, that was one of the most productive areas around there.

(What were their principle crops in there?)

Mrs. Oh they used to grow lots of truck crops in there.
