

(Yeah.)

But we had woods then, you know for the cows that got in

(Yeah)

LEFT THE FARM AFTER DEATH OF HUSBAND

(Well there a lot of work when you're living on a farm that way.)

Oh, but I knew--

(Always something to do, something to work at)

I couldn't stay there keep the fence up

(No.)

And tending to that bunch of cows. We had about twenty-five, thirty head of cows to tend to. I just couldn't do it. I could. I have done it for--ever since Levi been sick but--

(Uh-huh)

After he passed away Phil didn't want me to, you know, my son got me a trailer--

(Uh-huh)

And move out with him. Well I said it might be the best.

(Yes.)

Way out there--

(Way out there in those woods and by yourself could be quite a problem just for one person.)

You'd be--it's over a quarter from anyone's house.)

(Yeah.)

I thought--well I guess I'd better do this. I go out there once a week and sometimes twice a week. I've got a brother that lived right there adjoining us.

(Uh-huh.)
