

FAMILIES AND DESCENDENTS--SOME GOOD AND SOME BAD

(Well now, Mr. Keys' mother, 'I bet she knew a lot of things, too, didn't she?)

Yeah, she sure did. She was sister to young Carlile and all them, you see.

(Well.)

Hm-huh. Ed's mother, Ed's daddy and Mrs. Keys was brother and sister.

(Well my goodness.)

That makes Ed and Levi were first cousins.

(Uh-huh)

Yeah Mrs. Keys, she knowed, she talked Cherokee and

(Yeah.)

(What was her first, do you remember)

Margaret.

(Margaret?)

Yeah, Margaret.--Margaret. And Henry thought (not clear) as a brother and Steve and John and uh--what was Ed's Daddy?

(Well you know it don't seem like--that there was so many families are-- maybe all of them are good folks but one ever now and then would turn out to be an outlaw just like when in--)

Yeah.

(The Carlisles, and the Christies and--I guess there's several of them--)
And the Hartleys one of them turned out bad.

(Yeah. And the Farris's, one them turned out awful mean.)

Yeah. Oh I don't know, I forgot his name but he was sure mean.

(Zeke Farris)

Zeke, well--